GOVERNMENT OPES TO IMPROVE INDUSTRY

Edmonton, April 28.—Sale of Alberta made goods at prices lower than imported goods can be sold in the province was laid down as government policy today by Premier Aberhart as a part of his plan to develop and expand industry within Alberta.

Announcement of this policy was an amplification of his earlier announcement of a plan to encourage entry of new manufacturing companies here, to process the province's own raw materials, and also to provide electric power at cost.

"We are going to encourage people to buy Alberta-made goods," the premier said. "And to do so, these goods must be sold at prices lower than those of the same goods when imported."

And his proposed path to this goal, the premier indicated definitely, will lie along the way of issue of certificates bearing tax stamps.

"We are just now working out a plan by which this (manufacture of goods at less than imported cost) can be done without sacrificing the producer or retailer," the premier said. "We must follow somewhat the plan used by Japan in aiding her industries, the difference being that Japan applies it to the export trade; that is, Social Credit upside down. Alberta will apply it to her own internal trade."

RAILWAYS WILL PROSE- CUTE TRESPASSERS

Recent statistics compiled by the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National railways reveal that during the past year 55 trespassers were killed and 115 injured on the tracks of the C.P.R., and 79 killed and 127 injured on the tracks of the C.N.R.
We are informed that the railways, in an effort to offset a repetition of the above, have decided to more rigidly enforce the Railway Act in future, and that all caught in the act of trespassing or in any other manner committing offences against the act will be prosecuted and punished to the full extent of the law.

NOBODY KNOWS

Nobody knows about money, and everybody knows that nobody knows anything about it. And that's about all anybody knows about money. Arthur Brisbane has this to say about it, but he knows that he doesn't know anything about the coin of the realm:
"There is plenty of money in this country, billions of it, Jesse H. Jones will tell you, but it is not circulating, as unhealthily for money in a country as for blood in your veins."

"You know the strange, perhaps true, story of the man who unwittingly passed a counterfeit $10 bill. It went through the hands of ten individuals, paid for $100 worth of goods, and came back to the man who originally passed it. He identified it and destroyed it."

"One hundred dollars worth of debts had been paid, nobody was any the worse. Money is a queer thing."
He is right, Money is a queer thing, and the most sensitive thing in the commerce of civilization.—Cranbrook Courier.

PUTTING PREMIUM ON HONESTY

In the new Consumers' Sales Tax Act, which goes into effect in a few days, appears the following clause:

21. Where a purchaser residing or having his place of business outside an exempt area in the province, purchases any commodity for use or consumption within the province from a vendor residing or having his place of business outside the province or in an exempt area, the purchaser must pay the tax on such commodity direct to the sales tax branch within three days of the receipt of such commodity.

We venture the opinion, without consulting a constitutional lawyer, that the Act is ultra vires so far as the above clause is concerned.

It is an import tax, pure and simple, and the provinces have no right to restrict exports or imports. That is a specific right withheld by the British North America Act.

We can imagine that, if the Aberhart Government wished to go so far as to set up a Social Credit manufacturing organization it could, if the above clause is within the powers of the Province, prevent any manufactured article it likes from coming into Alberta.—Lethbridge Herald.

Alvin Ellis, at Springridge, N.S., has a fine flock of ewes and lambs this spring. His ten cheviot ewes gave birth to twenty-three lambs, twenty-two of which are living. Four ewes had triplets, five ewes twins, and the remaining ewe a single lamb.

VISIT OF REV. DR. CHARLES ENDICOTT

Members and friends of Central United church, Blairmore, will be interested to learn of the forthcoming visit of Rev. Charles Endicott to the Queen's Nest Pass. Dr. Endicott is Associate Secretary of the Missionary and Maintenance Fund, and was a visitor to the Pass in 1931.

He will arrive in Blairmore on Thursday, May 7th, and will attend a number of gatherings during the day.

Congregational Supper Meeting
At six o'clock sharp, there will be held a congregational supper meeting at which Dr. Endicott will be the guest speaker. Those adults who desire to attend will please notify the minister, Rev. A. E. Larkie. It is not possible to make provision for the attendance of children at this supper, but young people are cordially invited to join with the adults.

The newly appointed Missionary Committee will meet Dr. Endicott at 3 p.m. on Friday, May 8th.

CAPT. BEEBE NOT PASS OLDEST RESIDENT

In our issue of two weeks ago, mention was made of Capt. Beebe being the oldest resident of the district. We find since, however, that Mrs. Magdalena Shina, mother of Mrs. T. Pondelick, senior, who has been residing with Mr. and Mrs. Pondelick for the past thirty years, is four months older and will be eighty-nine in June this year. Mrs. Shina is still quite hale and hearty. Capt. Beebe, of course, has been much longer a resident of the Crows' Nest Pass.

PIGEON RETURNS AFTER TWO YEARS' ABSENCE

An instance of the remarkable hom-ing instinct of a pigeon owned by Charles Makin, president of Coleman Homing Society, is shown in the following:

Two years ago, in a flight of the society's pigeons from Maple Creek, Sask., this particular bird did not return. On Easter Monday, of this year, greatly to his surprise, this bird fluttered into Makin's loft. He examined it, and found the following note attached to its leg: fastened with a piece of cotton:

"From Shoop Bros., Montana.— Came to me on March 25, 1936, and turned him loose on Easter morning.
Would like to know it bird gets home."

FIFTIETH YEAR OF LINTOTYPE

The part that the modern newspaper plays in the life of the community will be the subject of a radio program to be broadcast through the courtesy of the National Broadcasting Company early in July.

Occasion for this wide tribute to the publishing industry is found in the fiftieth anniversary of the invention of the Linotype. It was this key invention that freed printing from the limitations of hand work, and made possible the development of the newspaper in the form we know it today.

A prize of $500 and a trip to New York has been offered by the Mergenthaler Linotype Co. for the 30 minute radio script which best dramatizes newspaper development over the last fifty years.

This paper will be glad to furnish the rules of the contest and to demonstrate the production of a modern newspaper to any of its readers who wish to compete for this award.

On Sunday last, Mr. Aberhart rapped the non-citizens who were sending money out of the province. And what about the non-citizen who is withdrawing his from the province, or the citizen who hopes to gather his together and go out with it to some clime where taxation is less burdensome?

PASS EIGHTEEN YEARS AGO (Blairmore Enterprise, 1918)

Jan. 18.—At a meeting of the school board today, the salaries of all teachers and the janitor, received a five-dollar boost.

Dr. O. Lillie delivered a lecture on the "Care of Teeth" at Cowley on Monday night.

One fast train out of every five scheduled has been eliminated as a war measure across the border.

Jan. 25.—At Monday night's meeting of the Blairmore town council, Councillor Mike Rosse stated that something should be done to protect the interest of the people of the town against the "heartless" government police and spotters.

At the annual meeting of the congregation of Central United church on Wednesday night unanimous approval of the union scheme was expressed.
Two years previous, the Presbyterians, Baptists and Methodists of Blairmore decided to unite their efforts. Dr. E. H. Gray was chosen pastor for the first two-year period.
For personal reasons, Dr. Gray was obliged to resign the pastorate before the completion of the two-year term, and was immediately succeeded by Rev. James Fulton, of Edmonton, who will continue on for, it is hoped, another two years.

Miss Margaret Kemp has accepted the position at the post office left vacant through the resignation of Mrs.
Olson.

Little Doris McEwen, 8 years, of Cowley, received an honor badge of scarlet ribbon for handing in five dollars at the regular meeting of the Junior Red Cross Society. She raised the money by selling tickets and raffling an apron.

At the annual meeting of the ratepayers of Frank school district this week, Rev. W. T. Young, Frank Weir and John Anderson were elected trustees. Mr. Young is chairman of the board.

Feb. 1.—The marriage of Miss Alice Cleland, of Cowley, to James Conner, of Wrentham, took place at Lethbridge this week.

Feb. 8.—Mr. and Mrs. James Patterson today received a message, stating that their son George was suffering from shell wounds. George is one of five brothers in khaki.

Samuel Parker was killed by a fall of cap rock in the Bellevue mine this afternoon. He is survived by his wife and two children, aged 15 and 13.
Born at Cowley, on February the 4th, to Mr. and Mrs. A. Freeman a daughter.

The marriage of Miss Annie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. McLeod, to Mr. Stacey Smith, was solemnized on Wednesday night by Rev. W. T.
Young.

David Oliver returned Tuesday from a visit to his former home near Truro, N.S.

Mrs. J. H. Farmer returned this week from an extended visit to points in Eastern Canada.

Feb. 15.—Joseph Beranek was killed at the Frank mine on Saturday afternoon by falling down a chute.
W. J. Heffer, an electrician employed with John Truro, met with an accident on Saturday afternoon last that cost him the loss of both legs.

The net proceeds of the Burns' anniversary concert held at Bellevue for the benefit of Arthur Ames amounted to $237.15.

Women are like newspapers because they have forms that are made up;
they have bold face type; they always have the last word; back numbers aren't in demand; they have a great deal of influence; they are well worth looking over; you can't believe everything they say; they carry the news wherever they go; if they know anything they usually tell it; they are never afraid to speak; they are much thinner than they used to be; every man should have one of his own and not borrow from the neighbors.

GLORY IS TRANSIENT

A few days ago there was buried in the news columns of provincial papers
the following item:

Winnipeg, April 12.—Canada's senior hockey crown tonight rested firmly on the collective heads of Kimber-ley's daring Dynamiters. The western champions joined a long line of amateur hockey's immortals last night with a 4-3 overtime victory over Sud-bury Falcons in one of the greatest exhibitions of competitive scoring ever shot in the classic intersectional series.

How transient are the things that men and boys, and women too, fight for!

Only a few years ago the people of Truro, the people of Halifax, the people of Moncton were fighting for the possession of the Allan cup and fighting as if it were the one thing upon which all future happiness depended.
Nothing else seemed to matter. Hockeys, sponsors, and supporters were carried away to the extent that they were living in lies. The players were posing as pure amateurs when they were not. Falsehoods were being supported and winked at. And it was all because it meant so much to the community to win the Allan Cup.

Only a few years ago that was!
Today the cup reposes in Western Canada, and we venture, prior to reading the above dispatch, the greater number of our readers neither knew nor cared where. Such are the things for which people sacrifice!—Truro

Designed with the hope of raising $2,000,000 additional revenue, the newly instituted Provincial Sales Tax Act, which imposes a tax of 2 per cent on retail purchases within the ministration will be under the direction of the provincial income tax branch.

Gordon Steeves, Prop. Phone 110 Blairmore, Alberta

Among a number appearing before Judge Jackson at Lethbridge in quest of naturalization last week appeared a man who had been a high school teacher in Alberta for a number of years. The question might well be asked: "Should his request be granted?" It really should not, for there are many real Canadians looking for and deserving of the job of teaching.

The town council, at their last week's session, decided to discontinue granting free water to the home housing the Crowder orphans. A real resaction should follow, since it is known that, though left parentless and with practically no means of continued subsistence, quite a number of years ago the children have never become wards of the town or the province.

WORLD HAPPENINGS
BRIEFLY TOLD

Mail service of 14 days from England to South Africa is specified in contracts entered into by the British post office department.

Medical reports disclosed that 1,400 persons died of cholera in Siam from the beginning of the outbreak in February to mid-April.

A swarm of stingless bees arrived in London from central Africa for experimental purposes and some will be released to see if they are homers.

Italy has lost $150,000,000 in gold—almost half her previous bullion reserve—since the outbreak of the Ethiopian war, the financial newspaper L'Information declared.

The sixth annual report of the National Radium Commission says Britain's radium is running out and more is badly needed to carry on the treatment of cancer.

A cargo of fur valued at close to $100,000 reached Edmonton by train from McMurray to where it had been flown by the northern aeroplanes from various ports.

South African motorists need expect no relief from taxation till the roads are put into thoroughly good order throughout the country, highway officials have intimated.

The Canadian Shipping Act, one of the most voluminous acts ever passed by the Canadian parliament, will come into force on Aug. 1, Marine Minister Howe stated at Ottawa.

Automobile accidents for the first two months of this year increased 11.6 per cent. over the corresponding last year, according to announcement by the Ontario motor vehicles branch.

Government statistics, which state that seven years have been added to the expectation of life since 1911, say London's suburban residents are healthier than the rest of England's people.

Wheat Exports Increase

Increase in Both Volume and Value Is Shown

Canada's exports of wheat in the fiscal year ended March 31, showed a substantial increase in both volume and value compared with the previous year, the Dominion bureau of statistics reported. At the same time wheat flour exports showed a decline in quantity and an increase in value.

Exports of wheat amounted to 179,124,180 bushels, worth $148,276, 885, or an average of 83 cents per bushel, compared with 165,701,985 bushels at $132,441,685, an average of 80 cents per bushel in the preceding fiscal year.

Wheat flour exports totalled 4,858,947 barrels, worth $19,382,671, an average of $3.99, against 4,536,827 barrels at $18,386,040, an average of $3.72 per barrel in the fiscal year ended March 31, 1935.

Boy Scout Meet

World Jamboree To Be Held In Holland Next Year

The fifth world Boy Scout jamboree will be held in August, 1937, at Bloemendaal, near Haarlem, Holland, according to official announcement received by Dominion headquarters of the Boy Scouts Association.

Plans are under consideration for acceptance of Holland's invitation and the sending of a Canadian contingent of scouts and scoutmasters. It was stated the Netherlands government will mark the event by the issue of a special jamboree postage stamp as was done by Hungary for the previous jamboree held there in 1933.

Advice To Teachers

Teachers must abandon their apologetic attitude toward the profession and the public discard its conception of the "teacher type," declared Dr. G. W. Kerby, principal of Mount Royal College, Calgary, in an address at the Alberta Teachers' Association convention. Dr. Kerby decried the attempts made by some communities to keep the teacher's social life in a narrow sphere. It had been too frequently the case that the community set the teacher aside from life, he added.

"Bring me a bowl of clear soup and a large screen," ordered the man with the new set of false teeth. "Why the screen, sir?" asked the waiter.

"So I won't be able to see that fellow at the next table eating a porterhouse steak."

Jack Miner Foundation

Ontario Government Gives Royal Assent To The Incorporation Bill

In 1931 The Jack Miner Migratory Bird Foundation was incorporated in U.S.A. Last week the Ontario Government put through special legislation, known as "The Jack Miner Bill," giving royal assent which incorporates the said foundation in Canada, and allows the said foundation to do business, such as soliciting contributions and bequests, and owning land in Canada as bird sanctuaries.

Jack Miner has agreed to give his home and bird sanctuary to the said foundation, when men and women have contributed enough funds to The Jack Miner Foundation to assure him the place will be kept on a perpetual basis.

All money, such as gifts or bequests, are to be held in trust, and only the annual interest used to pay the upkeep and expenditure on The Jack Miner Bird Sanctuary.

The object of the foundation is to raise one million dollars to be held in trust, so that there will be enough annual interest to allow carry-on educational campaigns in the public schools of Canada to educate the youth on the value of bird life to the Dominion. Jack Miner's motto is "Educate instead of legislate!"

More education and less legislation. The Ontario Government giving its royal assent, assures the contributing public that the legal set-up is on a solid basis, and that there can be no money misused in any way, as all gifts and bequests are to be held by a trust company and invested in government bonds.

Jack Miner's Bird Sanctuary is known the world over, and now the establishment of The Jack Miner Migratory Bird Foundation will more or less make his place an international park, and his life work will be carried on by the interest from money contributed by donations or requests to the said trust fund, known as The Jack Miner Foundation.

Jack Miner says "It is not as naive for his wealthy friends to leave a few hundred thousand dollars to The Jack Miner Foundation, where birds can always be seen alive and saved from extermination, as it is to leave several millions to museums where only dead, stuffed specimens can be seen in glass cases."

Jack Miner being so well known to all the men and women who perpetuate his home and bird sanctuary will become as famous as Jack Miner throughout the world, and their names will go down in history with Canada's well known bird lover, naturalist, philologist, lecturer and author. The slogan among Jack Miner's friends is "When making your will remember The Jack Miner Migratory Bird Foundation."

Has Strange History

Centuries Ago Dying Woman Founded Tichborne Dole

A strange history attaches to the "Tichborne Dole," which was recently distributed at Tichborne Park, Alresford, by Sir Anthony Tichborne. Centuries ago a Lady Tichborne, when on her deathbed, asked her husband to set aside money to provide for an annual gift to the poor in her memory. Her husband, by no means a model character, snatched a blessing from the fire and told her he would set aside the revenue from as much land as she could walk around before the brand burnt out. She accepted the challenge, had herself carried out, and contrived to crawl on hands and knees in a circle enclosing several acres before the brand spluttered out. The "Dole" is distributed in flour, and even during the war years it was continued by special permit of the Food Controller.

Reclaiming Land From Sea

The British colony, Port of Spain, Trinidad, is being enlarged at the expense of the Atlantic ocean. Already 80 acres of land have been added to the area as the result of reclamation work being carried out by the Trinidad government. S. R. H. Beard, resident engineer, stated reclamation work was not yet half finished and was progressing at a satisfactory pace.

"Why did you tear the back part out of that new book?" asked the long-suffering wife of the absent-minded doctor.

"Excuse me, dear," said the famous surgeon, "as you speak of the book labelled 'Appendix' and I look it out without thinking."

In one part of the Near East we are told, a husband ties a stocking round his wife's chin if she is talkative. This is certainly more humane than a sock on the jaw. 2148

A Rare Occurrence

St. Paul's Cathedral Had Third Burial Within Six Months

The rare incident of a third burial within St. Paul's Cathedral in six months happened April 18, when Louise Creighton, widow of a former Bishop of London who died in 1901, was buried beside her husband in the crypt.

It is doubtful if any woman has been buried in St. Paul's since the great fire in 1666. Mrs. Creighton was 85. Her husband was regarded as one of the greatest historical scholars of his generation. His wife possessed impressive intellectual gifts, her biography of her husband having been considered a masterpiece.

After her husband's death King Edward VII. granted her apartments at Hampton Court palace. (Subsequently she removed to Oxford. Her husband was the immediate predecessor of the present Bishop of London.)

The other recent burials within St. Paul's were those of Lord Jellicoe in November and Lord Beilby in March.

Too Highly Rated

Health Value Of Spinach Is Not Very Great

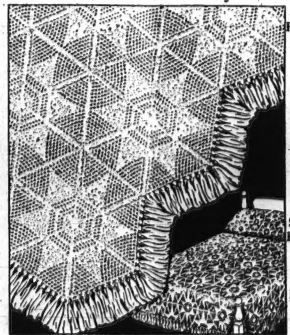

Good news for spinach haters! The leafy vegetable, obnoxious to many, but with a widely heralded health value, is losing its high standing, discussions at the opening session of the American Institute of Nutrition at Washington revealed.

Spinach has been considered a valuable food because it had a high content of blood and bone building iron and calcium. Less than half of the iron content of spinach, however, and less than a third of its calcium are in a form that can be used by the body. It appears from a report by Drs. M. K. Horvitz and G. R. Conway of research made by them at Yale University with the late Prof. L. B. Mendel.

Must Be A Record

Maritimers at Saint John, N.B., have found a record which rivals that of a Budapest barber who claims to have shaved a man in 28 seconds. They produce the record of James S. Pitt, former Saint John resident who died in Cambridge, Mass., who claimed he shaved a man and ran 100 yards in one minute. Mayor Brooks of Cambridge once offered $500 to anyone who could break Pitt's record, say the old-timers.

Here's a Six-sided Way To Beauty

Is it an heirloom?" admiring friends will ask. And how proud you'll be to say you made it all yourself, both quickly and easily. Just follow the clear directions for the easy-to-knit triangles, which repeated and joined form a striking, six-sided medallion. If knitted in string, you'll find your bedspread, cloth, pillow top or scarf is doubly durable. And in pattern 5584 you will find complete instructions for making the triangle shown; an illustration of it and of the stitches needed; material requirements. To obtain this pattern send 20 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to Household Arts Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg. There is no Alice Brooks pattern book published.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON
MAY 8

JESUS TEACHES FORGIVENESS, HUMILITY, AND GRATITUDE

Golden text: Be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving each other, even as God also in Christ forgave you, Ephesians 4:32.

Lesson: Luke 17.

Devotional reading: Philippians 2:1-11.

Explanations And Comments

The Sin of Causing Others to Sin, Luke 17:1, 2. It is inevitable that hindrances should come (Moffatt's translation); but woe unto him through whom they come! Better were it that he should cause one of these little ones to stumble. By "these little ones" Jesus refers affectionately to those disciples who were weak enough to be easily led astray.

The Duty of Forgiving, Luke 17:3, 4. "Probably the Evangelist intended no connection between this and the preceding verse. But we may think of the connection in three ways: the unforgiving spirit is given as the occasion for the occasion of stumbling; there may be a contrast intended between our severity to ourselves and our tolerance to others; to the lesser duty of doing no ill to another may be joined the greater of forgiving the ill others do." (A. E. Garvie.)

The Power of Faith, Luke 17:5, 6. "But," you say, "that is good talk, but it will take more faith than I have now to believe that things will work that way." That is the point what the apostles thought. They asked the Lord to increase their visible supply of faith. (S. D. Gordon.) Jesus replied to the disciples that if they had any faith at all comparable even to a grain of mustard seed, they could do anything. (S. D. Gordon.) The seemingly impossible, which is expressed by the words "Ye would say, 'Cut this mulberry tree, and thou shalt be planted in the sea, and it will do it.'" (A. E. Garvie.)

Doing One's Duty Without Boasting, Luke 17:7-10. "This appears to have no connection with the saying about faith; unless it be that in the apostles' request Jesus detected the danger that he was making unreasonable demands on his followers, and thus he rebukes the complaint by asserting his unlimited claim." (A. E. Garvie.)

A Lesson on Gratitude, Luke 17:11-13. As Jesus and his disciples were on their way to Jerusalem, traversing the borders of the two districts of Galilee and Samaria, they passed through a village where ten lepers were met by ten priests who stood afar off as prescribed by law (Lev. 13:45, 46). Num. 5:2 to prevent infecting others with their loathsome disease. Loudly they cried, "Jesus, Master, have mercy on us!" Jesus bade them show themselves to the priests as had they been cured, they would have to get their "bill of health," receive the priest's declaration that they were free from leprosy.

Obedience to the command required great faith. Yet all ten lepers obeyed. They found they found their disease had vanished. True it was for them, as Dr. J. H. Jewett somewhat hesitantly begins that the experiment and ends as an experience. Samaritans were hated and scorned by Jews, but misery likes company, and in that afflicted group there was one Samaritan. And the Samaritan place today where the fierce hatred of Jews and Samaritans is buried in the leper-house. As soon as this Samaritan perceived that the disease had left him, he returned to fall at the feet of Jesus and express his gratitude. And Jesus answering said, "Were not the ten cleansed? But here none but one came back to give glory to God, was this stranger?" And he said to him, "Rise and go thy way; thy faith hath made thee whole."

Has Proved A Success

Panel Heating Is Now Widely Employed In England

Panel heating, the most recent departure in heating methods since the central heating plant came into use, is now widely employed in England. Hot water is circulated through coils of steel pipe concealed in the ceiling from which heat rays are sprayed downward.

Unlike all other methods, by which the air itself must be heated to around 72 degrees for comfort, panel heating produces the same pleasant sensation of warmth as the sun, at an air temperature of 65 degrees or lower. Because the warmth of the invisible rays is retained longer by the skin and clothes, windows can be opened oftener to dispel any discomfort or dryness. Cost of installation is high, but operating costs show savings as high as 25 per cent.

Vice-Regal Visit To West

The Governor-General and Lady Tweedsmuir will be in residence at the vice-regal quarters Quebec hotel from early in June until the beginning of August, it was announced at government house. During that time they will make a tour of the maritime provinces. The vice-regal party plan leaving about August 6 for British Columbia where His Excellency will open the Canada-Pacific exhibition on August 26.

YOUR GARDEN

Even with the most fertile and open soil, expert gardeners stress the importance of thorough cultivation. The preliminary job will usually be done with a spade, or digging fork where space is limited, but in the country where land is still valued by the acre a horse or tractor-drawn plow will be used. At least once during the year, and better still twice, the soil should be thoroughly turned over. Later on just before seeding it is usually best to rake or cultivate finely, in order to break down all lumps. The benefit of frequent light cultivation is twofold. It will destroy weed growth, thus conserving the fertility and moisture used by these unwanted plants and it will also conserve moisture from evaporation which is always more rapid in hard, packed, uncultivated soil.

Where the area devoted to the garden is limited careful attention must be given to such points as distance between rows and between plants, so that all space may be used to advantage. Soil must have room to mature yet gaps must be avoided. A study of rotation of crops and of the maturity of plants of great value in planning the small garden. Such crops as radish and spinach are of great value in the garden between the rows of later maturing crops like carrots or parsnips. Late June, Sweet Peas and other plants, the rows of early maturing crops just before the latter are ready to harvest. Two or three crops of such plants as radish and lettuce may be grown on the same area. A successful quick growing crops by planting at intervals also desirable.

For quick results a important point with the new garden or with property which is rented, annual flowers will make a very satisfactory showing all by themselves. They are indispensable, too, in filling in the gaps in the perennial bed which many of these plants are killed by winter damage. In almost every section of Canada there are literally hundreds of plants and flowers from which to choose, including almost every conceivable colour, shape and size. Two tiny Alyssum to Sunflowers, Cosmos and Zinnias, which vary from a foot or so to six feet. Many of these plants are available as seed in the open ground from late April until the first of June. For short cuts or unusually early results many annuals may be purchased as well started plants.

Guarded By Police

Former Chief Secretary For Ireland Receives Protection

It was revealed that a police guard is still maintained outside the chambers in Gray's Inn of Lord Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland during the stormy years of 1920-22.

Lord Greenwood, a native of Whitby, Ont., retired from politics some years ago. But the police guard is still maintained outside the chambers in Gray's Inn of Lord Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland during the stormy years of 1920-22.

These precautions date back to the turbulent period preceding the signing of the Anglo-Irish treaty of 1922, creating the Irish Free State. Lord Greenwood, who held the post of chief secretary for Ireland as it was abolished under the treaty.

Lord Carson, solicitor-general for Ireland in 1892 and a prominent figure in the pre-war political struggle between pro-British and Nationalist Irishmen, was likewise guarded until the day of his death a few months ago.

Carson constantly grumbled at the inattention of the police upon his carrying a revolver. He said it was a nuisance because it made his pocket bulge.

Old Theory Exploded

Drafts Or Wet Feet Cannot Give People Colds

Dr. J. A. Doull, director of the department of hygiene and public health of Western Reserve University School of Medicine at Cleveland, winchmarked a few time-worn teachings about the common cold in an address before the medical science group of the Ohio Academy of Science. According to Dr. Doull, "You can't catch cold by sitting in a draft."

"You can't catch cold by stepping into a cold room after a hot bath."

"You can't catch cold by getting your feet wet."

"You can't catch cold by rushing outdoors without an overcoat."

"You can catch cold by infection only."

TAXES THAT HURT

The Bible says nothing much, that is pleasant about tax gatherers. We have nothing pleasant to say about the consumers' tax, which comes into effect in Alberta on May 1. We had always thought that governments are created by the people for the purpose of assisting them to do as a community what they cannot well do for themselves. We fear that, in the case of the consumers' tax, the effect will be to prevent people from doing business among themselves more readily. The two per cent imposition is not only a tax, it is a nuisance, and merchants who have been keen on codes are likely to find that they are about to pay for their fun.

Some of the tax impositions provided in the Act will kill business in the Province. For instance, if you had in mind the building of a $5000 home you are likely to forget it. It will cost you $100 for the privilege of erecting such a home. Here's the clause:

29. Contractors must secure registration certificates and are required to collect the tax from the purchasers of their commodities. When a contractor contracts to erect, repair, construct or reconstruct a building of any kind on a basis of time and material, he must collect the tax on the cost of the commodities furnished. If commodities furnished are not separately billed to the purchaser, the tax shall be computed on the total amount of the contract.

Which simply means that there will be no building in Lethbridge or anywhere else in Alberta so long as the tax remains in effect as at present drawn. It means that masons, carpenters and other artisans will go on relief or change their occupations.

Another imposition is the tax on new and used cars. After five years, during which the majority of car dealers in the Province have lost heavily, they are instructed to collect two per cent on all new cars, and two per cent on all used cars taken in trade-ins. We can imagine the sales resistance that will meet the car salesmen who must offer less for the old car and charge more for the new. As a business aid it will be several degrees below zero.

What Alberta needs as it seeks to emerge from the depression is help to build up business and industry so that taxes necessary to maintain the Province may be more readily earned. What we are getting is a hand at the throat of business. A teacher, a doctor, a telegrapher, a lawyer and a secretary of a religious institution—five out of the eight members of the Alberta Cabinet—have decided in their wisdom that what business needs is a two per cent tax.—Lethbridge Herald.

Don't lose your census! Hang on to them till some time next month.

The ambition to do well is far better than the ambition to be well-to-do. No man has a good enough memory to make a successful liar.

The teacher of a Saskatchewan school is named Pideybecki. Wonder if that's Scotch or Gaelic?

To issue a receipt for a one-cent sales tax, one must procure a provincial license. Next?

If we all had as much faith as we profess to have, this world would not have ten per cent of the trouble it has.

From sources never thought of by anyone else, the "no tax" Aberhart government are finding ways of exacting taxes.

To have to issue a receipt at practically a cost of a cent for a cent received in taxes for the government seems to be just a new kind of moral.

If you don't pray yourself, you can't expect the Lord to get excited over those offered for you by somebody else.

Alberta now has an honest-to-goodness gentleman who identifies himself as the big "I." Now it's "I is the government," etc.

Someone has written in to ask Mr. Aberhart if hemianopsies are reptiles, animals, vermin or fish. Probably he knows—he used to be a schoolteacher.

It is sometimes said that bridge has killed conversation. But, are those who say this assuming that the bridge players had some conversation to be killed?

People of the United States have for years been somewhat happier than people of other countries, but at that, they are now anxious to come over to Alberta to complete their laughs.

An American film actress refuses to attend any social function with anybody but her husband. Which just shows the extreme length to which stars will go to obtain publicity.

Mr. Aberhart talks about reporters who are not yet dirt behind the ears. There are governments in the same category. Difference is that cub reporters know they are ears.—Lethbridge Herald.

A clerical error: A bishop in the Old Country received the following letter from one of his rare clergy: "My Lord, I regret to inform you my wife has just died. Can you possibly send me a substitute for the week end?"

Coleman miners have decided to retain their status as a local union, without affiliation. The vote taken Monday was to determine if delegates should be appointed to attend a meeting in Calgary on May 11th, called by F. J. White, president of the Canadian labor party, to discuss uniting all Alberta and British Columbia miners under the banner of the United Mine Workers of America. The vote was overwhelmingly against sending delegates.

TAX EXEMPTIONS

A list of the tax exemptions under the new Aberhart (Nuisance) Community Tax Act appears in another column of this issue and is worthy of a careful study.

The exemptions cover a wide scope and include most of the primary necessities of life. The tax will nevertheless certainly be a real nuisance tax, both to the buying public and to the merchants.

If, however, it will pull Alberta out of the hole, the public generally should not complain too bitterly.

There is one clause in the exemptions which is not clear to us and if it means what we think it means it is certainly most objectionable and should be struck out at once.

It reads as follows: "Mail orders, when merchandise shipped outside of territory."

The question we ask, what is meant by the word "territory"? Does it mean the district served by the particular Mail Order house, or does it mean the district affected by the Act, that is the "Province of Alberta"?

If the former, the act will be most unfair to the independent merchants in the "Province."

In the clause as set forth in the press the word "territory" is most ambiguous and we would ask Hon. J. W. Huggill, Attorney-General, for a definition of the word "territory" as used in the act.—Innisfail Province.

DEFAULTING ALBERTA

In another column is a letter from Mr. Norman Bowles, giving figures as to the defaulting nations of Europe on their war indebtedness to United States. These figures are interesting, but we cannot see that Alberta is any less a defaulter simply because other countries have defaulted. Two wrongs never did make a right and from comments of the press of Great Britain, Alberta does not stand in a very enviable light.

There are not only nations but individuals in every land that the moment they get into financial difficulties think it alright to simply tell their creditors to try and collect.

As to Alberta's standing in the eyes of the world, this will be put to the test very shortly when the new bond issue of $5,000,000 is placed on the market.—Innisfail Province.

Suspected attraction for the Olympic games: Strong man Hitler breaking a treaty with his bare hands.

"Down where I live," said the Texan, "we grow a pumpkin so big that when we cut it my wife used one half for a cradle."

"Well," smiled the man from Chicago, "that's nothing. A few days ago, right here, two full-grown policemen were found asleep on one beat."

Business Men

"Yes, father," said the oldest daughter, just back from college, "I'm sure you'll like Charles, he's a wonderful young man."

Father looked interested. "Has he any money?" he demanded.

"Oh, Dad," said the girl, "you men are all alike. You're so curious. Charles asked me the same thing about you."

Playing Safe

A Georgia farmer sat barefooted on the steps of his tumble-down shack, smoking a corn-cob pipe. A stranger stopped for a drink of water.

"How is your cotton coming on?" asked the newcomer.

"Ain't got none," said the cracker.

"Didn't you plant any?"

"Nope, 'frail of boll weevils."

"Well, how is your corn?"

"Didn't plant none; 'frail there wasn't going to be no rain."

The visitor was abashed, but cheerful still. "Well, how are your potatoes?"

"Ain't got none; scared of potato bugs."

"Rally, what did you plant?" asked the stranger.

"Nothin', I just played safe."

From a microscopic examination of the dust found in a watch, a French scientist claims that he can tell the kind of work in which the man owning the watch is engaged.

Drumheller citizens are holders of 100 per cent of the city's bonds. That's good business, providing some folks don't start to class the guy who has so wisely invested fifty dollars as a money baron.

Some claim that nothing should be said against the Aberhart government in the press. But, what about opinions expressed on every hand by the public? And the papers express public opinion as near as possible.

The city of Red Deer maintains a rogue's gallery, in the form of a collection of criminal photos, which are subscribed for yearly. The service is supplied by the Identification Bureau of the Calgary police department. You've got to have a rogue's face to qualify.

A truckload of bees, travelling from California to Taber, Alberta, stopped here for twenty-three minutes last week to permit them being counted by Tony Stella. While being counted, two of the bees gained liberty. Tony's record showed 8,499,998 out of a shipment of 8,500,000 that left California.

A copy of the "Rocky Mountain Echo," Pincher Creek's original newspaper printed thirty-six years ago, and from which the present Pincher Creek Echo sprang, has been unearthed near Pincher Creek. It was edited by E. T. Saunders. Pincher Creek had a population at that time of less than three hundred.

ATTENTION, ANGLERS!

With the fishing season rushing toward us at the rate of 60 seconds a minute (and that ain't half fast enough for ardent anglers) men of the rod and reel may be interested to know why hungry fish literally swarming in lakes and rivers, sometimes merely play with the baited hook and don't make a sudden grab.

A scientist, whose name is not disclosed, explains why the finny denizens of the deep sometimes act in such a peculiar way. He says these fish probably have toothache due to caries. The cause of the decay, according to this savant's findings, seems to be mottled enamel, brought on by fluoride iron in the water where they live.

The next time you don't get a hefty tug on the line when you know there are fish playing with your bait, you might get results by dipping the worm in some toothache remedy before placing it on the hook.—Blairmore Daily Record.

Thousands of bees entering Alberta from States and B.C. points were given to understand that in this province they would be subject to taxation in line with their ability to produce or accumulate wealth. To secure this revenue, the government would require that every week during the life of the bee, a stamp would have to be attached to it, preferably on some smooth spot. At the end of the fifty-two weeks, a government auditor would come around, remove and check over the stamps and brand the bee with an o.k. Now, that's some scheme, and it's been devised by a local former supporter of the Aberhart regime.

DISENCHANTED

She wore an Easter bonnet,
With a little moss rose on it.
And a lot of gaudy ribbons that fluttered as she prayed.
My thoughts grew very tender
As I watched her form so slender.
In all its Easter splendor so gorgeously arrayed.

She had said with earnest unction
That she wore to every function
Gowns that she herself had made, "to save pa expense, you know."
As to hats, she loved to trim them,
Loved to shape them, crown them,
brim them—

"It was awful waste," she said, "to throw away your money so."

So I swore in lover's fashion
To declare that day my passion,
When an object caught my eye
That keeps me still "upon the fence"
Dangling down from that same bonnet,
With that self-same moss rose on it,
Was a little, round white ticket,
340 and fifty cents.

ADVERTISING

Tell me not in mournful numbers
Advertising doesn't pay;
For the man's "non commo ments"
Who would such absurd things say.
Life is real, life is earnest

And the man who hopes to rise

Must expect to Advertise.
In this world's broad field of battle
In the conflict of real life,
Advertising is the secret.

Of achievement in the strife.
Lives of rich men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And by liberal advertising
To the highest summit climb.

CORRESPONDENCE

Major Schoof enters upon somewhat of a humorous vein in the following letter:

Vancouver, Wash.,
April 29, 1936.

My Dear Editor:

I feel very proud of the fact that you think me worthy of being a candidate for the next premiership of Alberta, and I will say, if you will give me the same power I had in Mexico, when I was major in President Madero's army and member of General Villa's staff, I will accept the position and promise results. My nephew, Emil Frederick Schoof, is an Adolf Hitler's staff in Berlin, and I will ask him to coach me in Hitler's methods before I take the job.

The first law I should make as dictator would be to make all men and women sign a pledge to abstain from the use of tobacco, cigarettes, liquor, gums, paints and lipsticks, and I should prohibit all kinds of gambling. I would also make a law forbidding anyone to swear at me, the government, or anything else, the fine being from one to one hundred bucks.

To prove to you that my plans are feasible, I will say that I have discovered on my patrols in the wilds of Peace River enough oil, tar sands and metals on which to start the unemployed to work to raise millions within the first year.

Please take your pencil and add up: Savings in tobacco, liquor, gum, paint, lipstick, in one year $11,000,000; Anti-Swearing Law fines $800,000; Returns from tar sands, oils, metals, etc., $50,000,000; total $61,800,000.

I shall appoint my friend King, of the Claresholm Local Press, government printer; E. Taylor, of the Northern Gazette, attorney-general, and you minister of finance.

I would also abolish all judges' and lawyers' offices; but appoint, as we did under Pancho Villa in Mexico, a government hangman. This would save us another million.

If, as it sometimes happened in Mexico, we hanged the wrong man, we'd just put his family on government rations. This is much cheaper than a Bruno Hauptmann trial as you can readily see.

I have just given you an outline of my plans, and hope you will look them over carefully and send me your opinion in early reply.

MAJOR G. H. SCHOOFF

[NOTE—Major Schoof is boasting the Crow's Nest Pass in his tour lectures and could make good use of any literature, scenic photos, etc., that anyone might send him. He hopes to be coming through Blairmore some time in May or June].

The little girl was asked by her father what she intended to be when she grew up. "Well, daddy," she replied, "I think I would like best to be a frightfully rich young widow."

The ban on liquor advertising, which was to have gone into effect today, has been postponed indefinitely. It is almost too late, however, as far as a number of Alberta newspapers are concerned. Ads in quite a number of newspapers were discontinued shortly after Mr. Aberhart's first mention of placing the ban, and it may be impossible right now to secure a renewal of contracts.

Mr. Crook, representing "Western Canada Outdoors," Western Canada's newest magazine being published in the interest of tourists, outdoor life, game, fishing, etc., was in The Pass from Edmonton during the week. Mr. Crook continued on to Portland, Oregon, and the Pacific coast, and will stop over here again returning in June. Western Canada Outdoors is being published monthly at the Institute of Fine Art, Edmonton, with Mr. Colin G. Groff, former publicity commissioner for Alberta, as its capable editor. All interest in game and fish and forest preservation, and in outdoor life in Alberta, should become subscribers to this worth-while magazine.

BELLEVUE HAPPENINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Key and family left on Monday for Calgary, to visit with Dr. and Mrs. Key.

Mrs. H. Meade was a Calgary visitor over the week end.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. The first part of the evening was given over to games and singing. After a dainty luncheon, served by the hostesses, assisted by her daughters, Frances, Kathleen and Dorothy, the bride-elect was presented with a well filled basket of beautiful gifts. Miss Gilroy thanked her friends for their kindness. The party broke up about midnight with the singing of "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Speaking of pathetic figures, what is more pitiful than the predicament of that Coleman man who discovered that he had been corresponding with his own wife through a matrimonial bureau.

Referring to the recent marriage of Miss Jean Morrison, of Cowley, to Mr. F. A. Brownie, of Edmonton, the Tribune News adds: "The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. Jonathan Morrison, Glenholme, and also of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ross Fulton, of Bass River."

Albert Knowles, of Coleman, has devised and submitted to the Admiralty a plan whereby floating mines strung together and submerged a sufficient distance below the surface would on contact blow the submarines to pieces. He claims he never received any recognition for his device, though it was used by the Admiralty.

"What a big family you have, Mrs. Jones," said the visitor.

"Yes'm. And the funny thing is that all their names begin with a haitch. There's 'Orace, 'Erbert, 'Enry, 'Ugh, 'Ubert, 'Aroid, 'Atriet, and 'Etty—all except the last one, and we 'ad 'er named Halice."

An Immigration Policy?

Signs are not lacking that the question of a clearly defined immigration policy for Canada is one which will force to the front in the comparatively near future, though it may not loom up on the horizon conspicuously at the present session of Parliament at Ottawa.

The matter is one which has not assumed very much importance during the period of depression but now that economists and others who speak with more or less authority and quote statistics freely in support of their contentions state that the corner has been definitely turned, it is not unusual to assume that the problem of encouraging newcomers to this country on a more or less considerable scale will become sufficiently insistent from some influential quarters to demand official attention.

Indeed, even in Western Canada, where popular sentiment at the present time appears definitely opposed to settlement schemes or selective immigration of any kind, an occasional speaker arises at club luncheons in the cities to declare that immigration is a necessity before the problems confronting the country, including those of the farmers, can be solved.

On the other hand farmer organizations generally are opposed to land settlement projects, at least until such time as those trying to wrest a living out of the soil, are able to secure some better return for their labors than has been available during the past half dozen years.

The proponents of immigration and land settlement projects for non-residents of the country, however, stress the necessity for a substantial increase in population to provide tonnage for the railways and assert that until this objective is achieved the railway problem cannot be solved and this burden removed from the backs of the taxpayers.

Whatever may be the outcome of the conflict between these divergent points of view, and if encouragement, directly or indirectly, is again to be given citizens of other countries to transfer themselves and their families to Canadian soil, it is desirable that such policies will be devised as to ensure a reasonably strong infiltration of British stock, if such is available and can be attracted to this country. As to the latter there is some doubt about it on both sides of the Atlantic.

That the authorities in the Motherland are sympathetic to the idea is evident in the recent establishment of an Overseas Settlement Board with provision later for setting up a Central Committee on Overseas Settlement which latter body will be solely responsible for day to day administration.

Discussing the policies behind these two organizations in the Times, in a recent editorial takes the refreshing view that: "First must come the indirect method—the encouragement of economic improvement overseas—for instance, by expansion of the markets for Dominion produce where that is possible."

The Times, however, also pointed out that conditions which at one time brought about a strong migration movement from the Empire centre to overseas dominions has changed markedly. The result there is little likelihood of any immediate large outward flow. The story is told in a terse sentence: "With the great dispersion of material comfort and pleasures there is a slackened incentive for people in this country to seek a new life overseas."

Supporting the viewpoint that there is not likely to be any tide of migration from the Motherland to Canada for years to come, E. L. Chiechan in an article in the Dalhousie University Review reprinted in a distributing brochure entitled "The Future Of Immigration," refers to the mal-advertising which Canada has received at the hands of British immigrants who have returned in large numbers to the Old Country in the last few years. He points out that in the four years from 1931 the annual migration from the United Kingdom to Canada declined from 27,584 in 1931 to 2,260 in 1934, although during that period there had been no tightening up of regulations or restrictions, and asks "What is the explanation of this?"

"It is to be found, of course," says Prof. Chiechan, "in the steady decline in Canadian economic conditions, plus a distinctly unfavorable attitude which has been developing in Britain towards Canada as a land of hope and opportunity. It is the latter which constitutes the more serious difficulty for Canada to overcome. One can confidently look for an improvement in Canadian domestic conditions which will make the Dominion at least as desirable a place for the average citizen as the British Isles seem to-day, but it is going to take much longer to eradicate those baneful views of Canada which have been subtly developing over the past few years."

New Type Of Dynamite

Product Superior To Nitro-Glycerine Made From Corn

Corn dynamite, a new product of the test tube, potentially superior to nitro-glycerine, was reported to the American Chemical Society by its president, Prof. Edward Bartow, head of the University of Iowa department of chemistry.

Professor Bartow pictured the possibilities of corn, processed in this new fashion, being used all over the country to blast stumps from fields, excavate roads and sky-scrapers, foundries, and "shoot" quarries, mines and wells.

The new explosive is one of several possibilities opened by production from corn of a sugar-like substance known as inositol, hitherto unavailable because extraction made it cost about $500 a pound. In the last two months, Prof. Bartow said, Dr. W. W. Walker, of his department at Iowa, has discovered a method of extraction which cheapens the rare stuff, so many laboratories already have started work on its possible uses.

Churchill Wheat Sold

Canadian Wheat Board Sells 1,500,000 Bushels

All wheat owned at Churchill, Man., by the Canadian wheat board, approximately 1,500,000 bushels, has been sold to export interests, it was announced at Winnipeg. The sale represents only a change in ownership.

A straight cash transaction, the wheat was sold to James Richardson and Sons and the Reliance Grain Company, who made the announcement. A variety of grades was included in the sale.

School Examinations

Unfair To Force Student To Repeat Year On Account Of Failure In One Subject

Dr. Duncan McArthur, deputy minister of education, suggested to the high school principals' department of the Ontario Educational Association that the middle school examination be divided into two parts.

Dr. McArthur suggested six subjects be written in third year with candidates having two or less failures advancing to fourth year. If a candidate has more than two failures he would have to repeat his year.

The second part with six subjects would be written in the fourth year and those having less than two failures would be eligible to write the upper school examinations. It is unfair, he said, to force a student who failed in only one subject to repeat his year.

A Strict Censorship

Japan Cuts Out Many Scenes From Foreign Films

In one year more than 8,000 feet of "kissing scenes" have been cut from home and foreign films intended for showing in Japan. A further 22,000 feet were cut from crime scenes considered detrimental to public morality and social thought. A total of 64,000 feet of scenes from the 12,778,896 feet of Japanese films examined. All the cut portions are preserved in a special room at the Japanese Home Ministry in Tokyo. The accumulation since 1925 is said to weigh 15 tons.

Languages In Canada

No Fewer Than Thirty Is Listed In The Census

There are so many languages spoken in Canada that if representatives of each of them were assembled on the Parliament Hill at one and the same time, the Peace Tower would be a veritable Tower of Babel. There are no fewer than 30 listed by the census and there are a good many others.

English is the prevailing language of course, for that is the mother tongue of considerably more than half of the population and a very large proportion of those whose mother tongue is another language have learned to speak English.

There are over 2,000,000 people who learned French in childhood. The Germans come third with over 360,000, then the Ukrainians with over one quarter of a million. The Poles are fifth with 118,000.

There are Chinese, Japanese, Dutch, Flemish, Greek, Italian, Spanish, Swedish, Norwegian, Danish, Icelandic, Gaelic, Austrian, Bohemian, Bulgarian, Russian, Slovak, Syrian, Arabic, Yiddish and many other languages spoken.

This information comes from census reports issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Outlet For Barley

Recognized As Excellent Feed For Many Classes Of Livestock

An increased outlet for barley as feed may be achieved by an increase in the numbers of live stock fed on farms, by improving the market finish of meat animals, by reducing the volume of imported feeds, or by supplanting other feeds now commonly used. Barley is recognized as an excellent feed for many classes of live stock, and a pre-eminent feed for hogs, according to the report of the Special Barley Committee, submitted to the National Barley Committee at its annual meeting held recently in Toronto.

There is widespread support for an increase in hog numbers on a scale sufficient to absorb many additional millions of bushels of barley or other feed cereals, the report points out. The potential outlet for providing an improved finish on meat animals is greater than may be generally appreciated. It has been estimated that it would require between seven and eight million bushels of grain to produce a desirable finish on the annual supply of poultry alone that comes to the Canadian market. Only a small portion of this is being used. Corn is the only imported feed that competes directly with barley.

Speaking of his new charge, the Queen Mary, Captain Sir Edgar Britten, says she is "the easiest ship to handle I ever served in."

Muzzled Newspapers

Three Great European Nations Keep Authority Over Press

In three of the great European nations the newspapers are muzzled, and the muzzle is official and iron-clad. Scores of German, Russian and Italian journalists are in prison or concentration camps for the simple offence of honestly portraying unpleasant truths. But these are not the only countries in which the press is muzzled, according to the American Legion Monthly. Direct censorship rules definitely in Austria, and more than occasionally in Spain, Portugal, Greece and Poland, where the newspapers want to conceal from their own people as well as from the outside world. An occult censorship exists in France, Holland and Belgium, and in some other nations in the Balkans and along the Baltic. The result in most cases is to cause mistrust and disgust in the minds of newspaper readers. Great Britain and the United States are distinguished by a press independent and unafraid," according to the article reprinted in most cases is to cause mistrust and disgust in the minds of newspaper readers. Received Personal Gifts

Officials Of Royal Household Given Mementos Of King George

Carrying out the wishes of his father, the King has sent personal mementos of King George to every one of the officials of the Royal Household who were with the late King for ten years or more, says the News of the World. The souvenirs are in the form of jewelry—cut links, tie-pins, studs, and so on—which were in King George's large and valuable collection. At present the King is engaged in examining the records of all the great offices of societies and institutions of which he or his father has been patron or president, or with which they were connected in any way. The whole list is to be revised, so that the King will succeed his father in many cases, and will no longer be attached to certain other bodies which, while suited for patronage by the Prince of Wales, would not be suitable for direct connection with the King.

Gas From Corn Stalks

The farmer of the future may light and heat his house with his own corn stalks. Prof. Ellis I. Fulmer, of Iowa State College, told the American Chemical Society. A ton of the stalks yields from 10,000 to 20,000 cubic feet of gas when subjected to a fermentation process, he reported.

Inaudible Sounds

World Of Silent Noise Awaits Explorers Of Science

A humming bird sings. The notes rise higher and higher. Suddenly they seem to stop. Yet the bird's mouth remains wide open as if he were still pouring forth melody in full-throated ease. There is but one conclusion. The bird is still singing, but at a pitch inaudible to our crude ears. So with thousands of insects. The life of the forest is a majestic symphony of which we hear only the deeper kettle-drums, horns, roughings, rustlings and shrillings.

Just how much we hear depends on our inborn auditory sensitivity, our age and other factors. Few ears can detect vibrations higher than 15,000 a second. For most of us all sound becomes inaudible at 18,000.

Clearly a world of silent noise awaits the explorers of science, says the "Christian Science Monitor." In the Cruff Laboratory of Harvard they are to be found in the persons of Professor George W. Pierce, Dr. Noyes and Miss Prouty. For the moment they have confined their studies to Nemobius fasciatus, a common, dark-brown field cricket which can trill for five minutes at a time, emitting the while notes that vary from 8,000 to 11,000 vibrations a second.

In winter months, when nature has lapsed into pnumness, there are indoor studies of such phenomena as the inaudible hissing of fine air jets or the friction of clothing as we walk. Even now it is possible to hear in the Cruff Laboratory the inaudible and fortunately imperceptible shrieking generated by the scraping of skin on skin as hand shakes hand or the outburst that accompanies the higher frequencies when a match is struck against the box.

No Change Made In Procedure Even For Royalty

As an instance of how strictly the B.B.C. follow their program procedure, even in connection with the recent royal broadcast, the name of the King was placed on the day by day program board, which stands in a huge frame ten feet high just inside the main entrance of Broadcasting House. The columns in this frame show the time, studio, name of speaker. They included this item: "4 p.m., 3B, His Majesty King Edward VIII." The letters were of the ordinary size used for general programs.

Mosquito Pests

Drainage Of Surface Water Aids Greatly In Control

The Dominion Entomologist directs attention to the fact that much can be done by community action in reducing the number of mosquitoes which affect the comfort and health of citizens generally. Mosquitoes breed largely in temporary bodies of water, such as snow and rain pools, and river flooded areas. They develop only in water, and the method of control, which ultimately gives most satisfaction consists in eliminating the breeding places by drainage or by filling, and in the case of large flood areas, by dyking and pumping. Filling and levelling of low places where water accumulates should be carried out wherever possible. Care should also be taken to prevent mosquitoes breeding in artificial containers, such as water barrels, either by emptying or screening them.

The Dominion Entomological Branch has prepared a circular dealing with mosquito control in Canada. This circular is available free on application to the Publicity and Extension Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture at Ottawa. In the case of community campaigns, towns and villages contemplating action against these mosquito pests should write the Dominion Entomologist at Ottawa for direction and information.

Popular Feature Ended

Royal Horse Artillery Giving Last Musical Ride This Year

One of the most popular sights at the Royal tournament in London, held annually at Olympia in aid of military charities, will be seen no more.

After this year the famous musical ride by the Royal Horse Artillery, a feature of the program for 50 years, will disappear owing to the increasing mechanization of this branch of the service. F. Battery, under Lt.-Col. Duncan, will give the drive for the last time, and subsequently proceed to India.

The evolutions of the guns, with the horses at first trotting, crossing and recrossing with literally not two inches to spare, made a fascinating sight that became truly thrilling when the teams were put to a gallop. Very occasionally, too, there would be a bad spill, but rarely was anybody seriously hurt.

However, if the public is to be denied the cantering horses, and the jingle and rattle of the swerving guns, the younger generation at least is likely to find solace in beholding motor dispatch riders steeplespacing over the arena in a manner putting shame to the flesh and blood of the Grand National.

CHURCHILL WARNS THE SITUATION IS REACHING CLIMAX

London.—Charging Germany had spent $4,000,000,000 on armaments in 1935 alone, Winston Churchill, with a peroration which held the House of Commons spellbound, concluded his speech in the budget debate with a warning that Europe was approaching a climax.

"I believe that climax," he declared amidst tense silence, "will be reached in the lifetime of the present parliament. Either there will be a melting of hearts and a joining of hands between the great nations, which will release for us a glorious era and the age of prosperity which is now within the grasp of millions of toiling people, or there will be an explosion—a catastrophe, the cost of which no imagination can measure, and beyond which no human eye can see."

"I believe also that a strongly armed Britain, resolutely and valiantly led, seeking nothing but peace, but ready to run risks for peace, may conceivably turn the dread scale between a blessing and a cursing of mankind."

He sat down amidst loud cheers from the crowded benches.

The additional $100,000,000 provided in the budget for bolstering the country's defenses, Churchill declared at the outset of his speech, "proclaims the failure and inadequacy of our defence efforts this year."

From the most reliable sources, Churchill told the house, he had learned that from the end of March, 1933, to the end of June, 1935, there was an increase in the German public debt of a minimum of 7,000,000,000 marks. To this must be added the yield of increased taxation, amounting to a further 5,000,000,000 marks. Therefore, he went on, the minimum expenditure for the 2½ years over current budget expenditure was 12,000,000,000 marks.

Coming To Vancouver

Lord Mayor Of London Has Accepted Invitation

London.—Sir Percy Vincent, Lord Mayor of London, announces he has accepted an invitation to visit Vancouver in connection with the celebration this summer by that city of its golden jubilee of the granting of its charter.

The Lord Mayor in the course of his visit will unveil a statue to Captain Vancouver, founder of the British Columbia city. He also will visit Ottawa on his journey across Canada.

Sir Percy informed the corporation of the city of London he had accepted the invitation sent him by Vancouver civic authorities with the consent of the king.

He added he had received the cordial endorsement of Prime Minister Mackenzie King and that he had also discussed the matter with the Dominion Secretary, Malcolm MacDonald.

Judge Rules Opinion On Scientific Facts Can Be Expressed

Winnipeg.—Ruling that a physician has the right to express an opinion on scientific facts, Justice T. Dennistoun in Manitoba Court of King's Bench directed St. Boniface hospital to pay three months' additional salary to Dr. Omer G. Hague, Chief medical officer at the institution.

Dr. Hague was given a month's salary and dismissed from his post last November for expressing an opinion on "mercy death." His claim for a year's salary was only partly allowed in the judgment announced.

There was no evidence to show Dr. Hague was bound by any moral code to refrain from expressing his opinion, Justice Dennistoun ruled. A professional man, he added, has a right to express himself on scientific facts.

To Meet Defence Program

Extra Expense Means Higher Taxes For British People

London.—Neville Chamberlain's fifth budget, providing for increased taxes to meet the government's vast defence program, was generally received by the press as unexpectedly severe, but was accepted with Spartan resignation and approval of the orthodox decision to meet the whole of the increased expenditure from revenue.

Commentators related the proposals received a gloomy reception in the house, where it was apparent many Conservatives hoped the chancellor of the exchequer would raise the defence loan earlier than now planned, while others considered the chancellor would have been wiser to suspend the sinking fund rather than increase taxation at a time when industry is recovering.

A majority of morning newspapers agreed, however, it was best to bring home to the country the real meaning of the defence program. Besides raising the income tax, the chancellor increased the duty on tea by two pence per pound, an increase of 50 per cent. A duty on imported lager beer was also proposed. As a concession to small-income groups the income tax exemption for married men was raised from £170 to £180 and the exemption for each child increased from £50 to £60.

Highway Construction

Tenders Called For Work On Alberta

Edmonton.—Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, announced that tenders had been called for the construction of a 26-mile standard grade and gravel highway from Lethbridge to Iron Springs, via Picture Butte. It would provide an outlet for the new sugar factory in that area, he said.

Mr. Fallow said that 31 miles of "blotter," or oil-coating, and 15 miles of "seal" coating on the highway between Calgary and Banff would be completed by July 1, thus completing a hard-surface road from Calgary to Banff park boundary.

Also planned for later in the year is hard-surfacing of the Calgary-Oakdale highway.

Fifty miles of road on the Calgary-Edmonton highway south from this city to Westlake will be rebuilt "as it is falling apart." Twelve miles of this would be over new ground so as to eliminate "Death Crossing," a level railway crossing, scene of several fatal accidents.

End Of Dry Cycle

United States Weather-Men Speculate On Drouth Conditions

Washington.—Weather bureau experts speculated on the possibility the United States' 25-year drouth cycle had ended, but with the reservation that "only time can tell."

The weekly weather bulletin said drouth conditions were rare in Oklahoma and that western Kansas was "still extremely dry." Little or no rain fell in Arkansas and rainfall brought temporary relief from dry weather in Texas.

But nevertheless, the scientists said they were wondering whether the country might be entering a cycle classed as "cold and wet." About this stage a year ago, it was said, the scientists had little reason to believe the cycle was ending and the indications were dry weather might continue.

But the last winter was classed as decidedly wet and cold over most areas, causing speculation over the end of the dry cycle.

Study Atrocity Charges

League Of Nations Will Investigate Acts Of Barbarism

London.—Anthony Eden, foreign secretary, in answer to queries from the Labor benches in the House of Commons, said the League of Nations had inaugurated a careful study of atrocity charges by Italy and of Ethiopian counter-charges that the Italians have been using in the war between the two countries.

"I think it is very important we should distinguish between individual acts of barbarism and alleged actions by the high command or by government," Eden said. He assured the house the cabinet was prepared to press on with the sanctions program against Italy in a determined effort to uphold the ideal of collective security. He stressed that the British attitude was in no way to be construed as deliberately anti-Italian.

BRAVE RESCUE IN MINE DISASTER CANADIAN EPIC

Moore River, N.S.—Victors over 240 hours of hunger, exposure and dread in a cavern far below the earth's surface, Dr. D. Edwin Robertson and Alfred Scadding came up the twisting trail from the Moore River gold mine's caved-in pit.

They were carried out on stretchers borne by Draegermen who for 10 days had striven downward through rock and rubble to clear a path to the men entombed when the sides of a shaft caved in late Easter Sunday night.

As soon as the miners turned Dr. Robertson and Scadding over to the hands of physicians, they dared the mine again. In the black cavern they picked up the body of Herman Magill, 30-year-old partner of Dr. Robertson in the mining venture that lured the men underground.

They carried it reverently to the surface. Men who had spared neither nerve nor muscle through the long days and nights of digging, blasting, drilling—hope and disappointment, and final triumph—cast aside any reluctance to handle the three-day corpse and completed their task.

Dr. Robertson, after being carried through the rescue tunnel from the prison to the old doused Reynolds shaft from which the rescuers cut across, crawled much of the way up to the surface on his hands and knees, said Jack Simpson, captain of the rescue crew.

He said Dr. Robertson and Scadding were on the north side slope of the 141-foot level beside the skip or trolley which operated from depths to the surface. It was apparently the same spot to which they had jumped to safety when the cave-in occurred.

"It was about seven feet wide and 12 feet high but I don't know how long. It was very wet and damp. There were no signs of ladders." (Mentioned by the men in conversations with the surface during their imprisonment.)

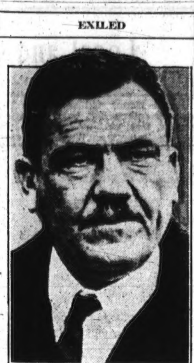

As soon as the Draegermen broke through, Minister of Health Dr. R. Davis followed and examined the two men.

Dr. Robertson is 62 years old. Just once in 10 days food had come down through the slender shaft of a drill-hole. But he was indomitable. Scadding was in worse shape.

Magill was the doctor's business partner. The Draegermen didn't want to talk about it, but they said Dr. Robertson and Scadding had been unable to look at the huddled body of their companion as they were taken from the cavern toward light and life.

"Good boys, where are you from?" the doctor queried as the gold-miners of Goldenville and the coal-diggers of Stellarton broke into the shattered slope.

"Take it easy boys," Scadding said. Then began the crouching, crawling ascent to the surface where the Former President Calles of Mexico, who has been forced into exile by the Lefist Government, Calles, whose 11-year rule of turbulent Mexican politics once won him the title of "strong man" was placed aboard a Texas-bound airplane with three of his followers.

ambulations of a medical unit waited to care for the resurrected men. Draegerman George Morrell walked to the drill hole through which Dr. Robertson and Scadding had talked with the surface. Triumphant, he cut the telephone wire.

The first stretcher came up bearing the doctor on the last lap of the journey. A great cheer went up.

Ten days' growth of beard stood out from Dr. Robertson's and Scadding's drawn pale faces. They had lost pounds of weight.

The diamond drill hole reached them at a spot where water was dripping swiftly from above, and they had to climb ladders to reach its mouth. They were warned to risk pneumonia from the water and were too exhausted to climb the ladders to get food.

But in spite of that Dr. Robertson was in marvellous condition. "Why, the doctor walked out of the mine and into his own room and demanded a big meal of beef steak," joked Dr. Ed. Gallie, a life-long friend, in his relief to find Dr. Robertson so well.

Suggestion To Remonetize Silver Through Bank Of Canada

Ottawa.—A bill to remonetize silver through the Bank of Canada was introduced in the House of Commons by Thomas Reid (Lib. New Westminster). Speaker Casgrain said he would review it to see if it came within the competence of a private member.

Under the Reid Bill the bank would be empowered to add silver to its currency reserve in the same way as gold. The bank then would issue silver certificates against the silver. In addition, the bank would have power to purchase newly-mined silver on instructions of the finance minister.

Defending Law And Order

Great Britain Is Keeping An Eye On Palestine

London.—Great Britain will defend law and order in Palestine at all costs and will not be deterred by racial rioting or threats of any kind, J. H. Thomas, secretary for the colonies, told the House of Commons.

"Maintenance of law and order is a matter exclusively for His Majesty's government and will be enforced against anyone breaking the law," he said.

Mr. Thomas gave the official list of casualties in recent Palestinian disorders as 16 Jews and five Arabs killed, 75 Jews and 72 Arabs injured.

"(Unofficial estimates in Jerusalem ranged somewhat higher, with 17 Jews and 12 Arabs reported dead.)"

Britain exercises rigid control over arms imports into Palestine, he assured the house.

"No firearms or ammunition may be imported into Palestine except on a non-transferable permit from the district commissioner, who may at his discretion refuse it," Mr. Thomas declared.

HEAVY PUBLIC WORKS PROGRAM IN ESTIMATES

Ottawa.—Expenditures of nearly $60,000,000 in works projects of all descriptions for the coming year are authorized for the current fiscal year in supplementary estimates brought down in the House of Commons by Finance Minister Dunning.

In addition the minister is making provision for the monthly relief grants-in-aid to the provinces totaling $26,000,000 for the year ending March 31, 1937, and for a maximum deficit of $39,900,000 in the Canadian National Railway system for the calendar year 1938.

The total amount of the supplementary estimates is $124,748,743, of which all but the amount estimated as the Canadian National deficit will go toward providing employment or relief for loans to the railways totalling $6,412,400 to enable them to pay their share of cost of maintenance work designed to take care of those in camps for single homeless men and to complete the equipment buying program started under the Supplementary Public Works Act of 1935.

In estimates provision is made for completion of a number of projects started by the late government and $30,418,341 is to be voted for that purpose. New projects will take $28,430,401.

Prairie provinces conservation will be given particular attention with $1,184,000 to be voted for that purpose, while farm settlement and rehabilitation will take $2,500,000 more.

Expenditures in national parks will run to more than $1,800,000, including $140,000 for establishment of new parks in the maritime provinces.

The last government's program of intensified geological surveys to uncover new mineral resources will be completed at a cost of $150,000, and extended this year by at least $200,000.

Relief works carried on by the Dominion and provinces under cost-sharing agreements will require $7,045,000 of federal money for completion of projects now under way, and it is proposed to spend $9,200,000 more for this purpose.

Completion of projects already started and new projects planned by the national harbors board will take more than $6,000,000, while new and old projects of the department of national defence will require $5,317,000. The department will have the biggest spending bill with $19,545,115 appropriated, and public works will spend a total of $14,956,585. All these estimates are considered of an emergency character and are in addition to the regular estimates which were brought down at the beginning of the session, amounting to $384,427,548.

In furtherance of the government's efforts to assist and develop mining it is proposed to spend $1,500,000 in providing transportation facilities into the mining areas.

Fisheries will be aided to the extent of $500,000, of which $300,000 is to co-operate with the provinces in assisting needy fishermen, and $200,000 to be spent toward expanding markets for Canadian fishery products at home and abroad.

CANADA'S WHEAT SALES EXPECTED TO BE INCREASED

Ottawa.—In the face of a combination of circumstances giving rise to a pessimistic outlook on the world wheat market, the Dominion bureau of statistics monthly report finds reason to believe that Canada, with two-thirds of the total exportable supply of wheat, soon will be supplying a higher percentage of world demand.

Australia's exportable surplus has been reduced to 30,000,000 bushels and the prices have risen to a premium above most Canadian grades, the report states, and growing crop/conditions in important European countries were less favorable than a year ago.

During the past month crop prospects had been reduced in Spain, Italy, Germany and the Balkan states. Hot, dry weather had persisted in North African countries that are counted upon by France and Italy to supply their domestic wheat deficiencies. Low temperatures had been harmful in Russia and the official forecast of the United States winter wheat crop issued April 10 was lower than expected.

Pessimism as to the world wheat market has resulted in the fact of either continuity or breadth in world demand, the report continued. Minor factors discouraging an enthusiastic outlook were the continued provision of export supplies by European countries, scarcity of foreign exchange, and an expectancy of a surplus in United States in 1936-37 and repeated forecasts of increased 1936 acreage in Australia.

Total Expenditure High

Unemployment Relief Cost Canada $45,820,330 During Fiscal Year

Ottawa.—Total disbursements of the Dominion government in connection with unemployment relief for the fiscal year, which ended March 31, was $45,820,330, according to the annual report of Harry Hereford, Dominion commissioner of unemployment relief. The report was tabled by Labor Minister Norman Rogers in the House of Commons.

Grants-in-aid to the provinces accounted for $26,274,875 of the expenditure, while money spent on Dominion undertakings totalled $7,668,078. The government spent $6,587,294 on the trans-Canada highway, the remainder being distributed among other provincial highways undertakings, municipal works and miscellaneous activities.

The report shows that in January, the last month for which figures are available, a total of 1,232,390 persons received relief in Canada. These included heads of families and dependents.

A summary of relief legislation since the 1930 act indicated that in the six years the Dominion had spent $204,839,007 on unemployment relief.

In addition to that a total of $126,353,523 had been loaned to the four western provinces and the Canadian Pacific Railway. These loans were still outstanding. The C.P.R.'s portion was small, $2,447,222.

Closing Suez Canal Was Suggested In British House

London.—Geoffrey Mander, grandson of the late H. N. Paine of Halifax, suggested in the House of Commons that Britain stop the Italo-Ethiopian war by closing the Suez Canal to Italian vessels.

Replying, Viscount Cranborne, under-secretary for foreign affairs, said such action would be "heroic, but not collective and would not meet the present crisis."

Mander further suggested Britain should withdraw from the League of Nations if France refuses to participate in new sanctions against Italy.

Prayer Of Thanksgiving
